Frontend Developer (m/f/x)

Description

We eggheads are en route to becoming a leading PXM platform in Europe! Become a member of our agile Development team and have a say in how things are run. At eggheads, you will enjoy having direct influence on our software product, our users, as well as our organization and software engineering practices.

Besides a secure work environment that is rich of variety, we provide you with state-of-the-art technologies and an autonomous work setting. Our Development organizes itself into agile teams (Scrum), while the coordination of our tasks is tool-based. Regularly exchanging views on current projects and the most recent technology highlights is standard for us eggheads.

Tasks

You will work as the member of an effective, autonomous, and function-oriented team where you can put your developer skills into practice in an optimal system environment. UX and UI are your world? If so, then eggheads is just what you're looking for.

As part of our frontend team, you will be working directly with the eggheads codebase. In the process, you identify, document, and communicate technical improvements revolving around your areas of responsibility in the team. Furthermore, your tasks include supporting the development and refining both, our frontend engineering standards and guidelines.

All further tasks are entirely based on your individual skillset and interests. Show us what you're made of – and all doors will be open for you.

Daily communication and interaction may take place in English and/or German, depending on your preference. We eggheads always go out of our way to make sure that no language barriers or cultural barriers arise. Whether they came from Brazil or elsewhere, so far, new additions to the eggheads team had no problems of fitting in at all.
